

Venture Capital, Startups, and Social Entrepreneurship

Spencer Kushner '13

Founder & CEO
Otter Learning

Spencer Kushner is the Founder & CEO of Otter Learning and the Managing Partner of Lunchline Holdings. Spencer began his career as an analyst in the Investment Banking Division at Goldman Sachs and subsequently as an Associate at Zelnick Media Capital, focused on Technology, Media and Entertainment investments. In 2018, Spencer co-founded Otter Learning to expand high quality early education across the US. Since that time, Otter Learning has become one of the nation's leading providers of early childhood education with operations in 8 states across the Southeast. Today, Otter Learning operates 63 locations and provides daily care to over 6,000 students aged 6 weeks to 12 years old. As the Managing Partner of Lunchline Holdings, Spencer oversees investments in a variety of sectors including education, industrial services and real estate.

Francis Lyons '93

Founder & CEO
ooPoll

With over 25 years of experience as a serial founder, patent-holder, and Emmy Award winning producer, I have a passion for developing technology and media that promotes equitable amplification of voices. As the founder and CEO of ooPoll, and founding partner of Truepic, I am expounding on my expertise in early-stage start-up and product development, technology innovation, media strategy, and video and live event production. My collaboration with media powerhouses like MTV, Vice and ESPN trailblazed a new era of media driven by a vision of a better world for our youth. I leverage my entrepreneurial experience and passion for education to advise and mentor innovators on pro-social business activation and media literacy projects.

Megan McCamey '91

Founding President goBeyondProfit

Megan McCamey is the founding President of goBeyondProfit, a venture philanthropy built for and with CEOs. goBeyondProfit is a growing network of more than 2,100 CEOs who pledge to operate generous businesses and improve lives. goBeyondProfit provides original content geared toward businesses of all sizes and industries such as research reports, peer interviews and award-winning digital resources.

She is also the CEO and co-founder of a new venture, Belay Guidance Company, that puts preventative science at parents' fingertips with their digital mental health platform of customized, real-time expertise that makes today easier and the future brighter.

Earlier in her career Megan was Senior Advisor to the CEO for Points of Light and founding President of the Civic Incubator where she built new enterprises through mergers/acquisitions and joint ventures between for-profits and non-profits.

At McKenna, Long & Aldridge, Megan led the firm-wide philanthropic and community impact strategy including a multi-faceted effort to fight human trafficking nationwide. She also worked closely with the founders of Green Print as strategic advisor and early-stage investor helping build the carbon investment strategy and negotiate social purpose partnerships as they launched a sustainability solutions company.

She has served as Chair of the Board of Visitors for Emory University as well as on the boards of Wake Forest University's Advisory Council on Entrepreneurship & Innovation and Candler School of Theology. She also served as President of Parents Council, and various other roles for the Westminster Schools where her four children attended. Megan lives in Atlanta with her husband Bill McCamey ('91)

Ryan Sells '07

Co-Founder & General Partner
Dash Fund

Ryan is a co-founder & GP at Dash Fund – an early-stage venture capital fund focusing on FinTech investments. He is also the Head of BD at Turnstile, a FinTech startup back by First Round Capital that automates the quote-to-cash stack for b2b businesses. Previously, he was Employee #7 and Head of BD at Second Measure (YC S15, acq. by Bloomberg). Post-acquisition, he led Bloomberg's Alternative Data Strategy as part of the Office of the CTO. Ryan was also Employee #8 and VP of Revenue at Pipe, an alternative-lending FinTech startup most recently valued at $2 billion. Notably, he was the first business hire at each of Turnstile, Second Measure and Pipe. Ryan started his career at JP Morgan where he spent eight years in the sales & trading division. He holds a BBA from The College of William & Mary where he double majored in Finance & History while playing Division 1 soccer.